

Comments from Evaluations “Nurses Role in Philanthropy”

- “ Being a nurse gave her a connection to the audience”
- “ A practical sensitive way to present the opportunity to give”
- “ Presentation was enjoyable”
- “ All new to me, I am a new nurse and have never been taught philanthropy”
- “ I learned to recognize the opportunities for patients to express their gratitude through giving”
- “ This actually made me more aware of the opportunity for donations and how to promote a donation. I learned that we have people to refer our patients or families to when they want to give a gift.”
- “ Instructor was knowledgeable and passionate”
- “Helen is a dynamic speaker and made the content relevant”
- “ Made me more comfortable with process”
- “Found out who the development officer was”
- “The entire process was new- utilizing information given will be important”
- “ Interesting concepts, great presentation”
- “ Example of hospice patient family was particularly effective- how a donation can be lost”
- “ Informative on an appropriate level of learning”
- “ It’s okay to refer patients to professional development team”
- “ It changed the way I think of gifts from patients’
- “ Importance of giving back to many patients”
- “Great”
- “ Very good presentation, Loved the southern accent”
- “ I shouldn’t dismiss a patients thank you, they may want to do more”
- “ Feel more comfortable in recognizing desire to give and where to refer”
- “ Recognized the impact of patient healing when they are able to give to others”
- “ I personally never thought of referring before. Now I will be more aware”
- “Never thought of referring pt/families to the foundation”

“ Informative, relevant”

“ I didn’t really know what the development office did”

“ She is eloquent and very knowledgeable”

“I had no idea we had such an active development team”

“It was very eye opening and I’m grateful to be made aware”

“ Sensitive topic that clinicians often do not know how to pursue or manage- important to know”

“ The link between giving and healing and how important it is”

“ Excellent presentation”